Further to your enquiry, we can analyse your samples for the item(s) listed on the second page. Our routine turnaround for analysis is 10 working days following receipt, although faster turnarounds are usually available by prior agreement. Prices are quoted on the basis, that all the samples are arriving as one batch. Samples arriving outside of the batch, are subject to a re-quote. Please note that there is minimum charge of £50.00 per sample.

For liquid samples we would ideally require 1 to 2 sealed units. For solid samples we would ideally require 100 gram per analysis. Please note that insufficient sample or samples containing high levels of interferents may result in higher reporting limits. Please also inform us if you expect samples to contain high levels of the target analyte(s).

Please be aware that if the samples are to be analysed for volatile compounds, that the samples need to be supplied in appropriate containers that mitigate the loss of these volatiles.

For the purpose of calculating due dates, the date samples are received is classed as day 0. Please ensure samples are delivered to us before noon to help us to achieve your requested turnaround time.

To help us to analyse your samples promptly;

Please supply the attached Sample Submission form (see page 3 to 5), a Purchase/Order or reference Number and the Quotation Number with each batch of samples submitted. We are not able to start work on samples without this information and failure to provide it may result in longer turnaround times.

Kind regards,

Peter Mann
